

Overcoming Transportation and Distribution Industry Challenges

The transportation and distribution industry can be incredibly complicated. Faced with numerous challenges, you need to optimize your people to fulfill your business strategy, tackling critical issues including:

- supply chain challenges
- high labor costs
- ever-changing regulations
- talent shortages
- productivity gaps
- hidden capacity

UKG makes it easy to attract and retain best-fit employees and manage them more cost-effectively so your transportation and distribution facilities can allocate labor to demand more accurately to help optimize labor costs, improve employee engagement and productivity, improve workforce agility, and drive stronger bottom-line results. Accelerate your organization's digital transformation with a truly connected global workforce experience — moving beyond traditional definitions of human capital management (HCM) and workforce management (WFM) to look further and combine transformative technology with deeper workforce capabilities.

The combination of UKG Pro™ and UKG Pro Workforce Management™ (formerly UKG Dimensions®) delivers unique, culture-driven, industry-designed solutions for midsize to large enterprise companies to support their people through the major and everyday moments they experience while a part of your organization. UKG is the powerful HCM + WFM suite you need in order to grow and champion meaningful experiences for your people around the globe.

You can expect immediate return on investment (ROI), as Forrester Research recently announced that when customers combine UKG Pro Workforce Management and UKG Pro they see an 89% ROI, and a payback period of under 6 months.*
